Being thus arrived in a good harbor, and brought safe to land, they fell upon their knees & blessed God of heaven, who had brought them over the vast, & furious ocean, and delivered them from all the periles, & miseries thereof; againe to set their feete on the firme and stable earth, their proper element. And no marvel if they were thus joyefull, seeing also Seneca was so affected with sailing a few miles on the coast of his owne Italy; as he affirmed, that he had rather remaine twentie years on his way by land, then pass by sea to any place in a short time; so tedious, & dreadfull was the same unto him.
