ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to start by thanking my flute professor Karla Flygare for always pushing my boundaries and getting me to develop the skills I am less comfortable with, while still allowing me to do what I love and show off the skills that I do have. I would like to thank all of my friends for the constant love and for not letting me get away with being overly self-deprecating. I would like to thank my family for the unconditional love and support starting from day one of my musical career. I would not be where I am today without those who believed in me. – COLIN BABCOCK
